INTRA-PROVINCIAL TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for operating licences under Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirement in like manner to section 6 of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences unless a person, within thirty days of this publication, serves on the Applicant and files with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, a written request for a fitness hearing or a public interest test in like manner to Subsection 7(4) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64.

NOTE: A person who requests a public interest hearing must, within thirty-nine days of this publication, serve on the Ontario Highway Transport Board a document that makes out a written case to the Board that the granting of the operating authority applied for would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on the public interest using the criteria set out in subsection 10(1) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and that the request is not frivolously made.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.

LOI DE 1987 SUR LES TRANSPORTS ROUTIERS

INTRA-PROVINCIAL TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for operating licences under Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirement in like manner to section 6 of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences unless a person, within thirty days of this publication, serves on the Applicant and files with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, a written request for a fitness hearing or a public interest test in like manner to Subsection 7(4) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64.

NOTE: A person who requests a public interest hearing must, within thirty-nine days of this publication, serve on the Ontario Highway Transport Board a document that makes out a written case to the Board that the granting of the operating authority applied for would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on the public interest using the criteria set out in subsection 10(1) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and that the request is not frivolously made.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.

Workers' Compensation Board of Ontario Commission des accidents du travail de l'Ontario

IN THE MATTER OF Section 86p of the Workers' Compensation Act,
R.S.O. 1980, c. 539, as amended;

AND IN THE MATTER OF the findings of the Industrial Disease Standards Panel
Regarding Occupational Exposure to PCBs

REQUEST FOR SUBMISSIONS

Section 86p of the Workers Compensation Act provides for the constitution of an Industrial Disease Standards Panel (the "Panel"). It is the function of the Panel to:

- a) investigate possible industrial diseases;
- b) make findings as to whether a probable connection exists between a disease and an industrial process, trade or occupation in Ontario;
- c) create, develop and revise criteria for the evaluation of claims respecting industrial diseases; and
- d) advise on eligibility rules regarding compensation for claims respecting industrial diseases.

On May 27, 1986, the Workers' Compensation Board requested the Panel's opinion and advice regarding the occurrence of various cancers among workers in Ontario with occupational PCB exposures. On December 3, 1987, the Industrial Disease Standards Panel provided its report to the Workers' Compensation Board. On January 9, 1988, the Workers' Compensation Board published a notice in the Ontario Gazette calling for comments, briefs and submissions within 90 days of the date of the notice. The deadline for receipt of submissions was subsequently extended to May 9, 1988 to afford all interested parties an opportunity to adequately review the relevant materials.

During the Board's review process, a number of questions were raised in connection with eligibility rule 2 in the IDSP report. On May 10, 1989, the Chairman of the Workers' Compensation Board wrote to the Panel to request an elaboration on eligibility rule 2 to assist the Board in its further consideration of PCB claims. In particular, the Panel was asked to answer the following questions:

- o What is the relevance of blood serum PCB levels to overall PCB body burden?
- o What does the Panel consider to be a PCB level that is significantly higher than the normal background concentration found in the general population?

- o What are the recommended procedures for sampling and analysis of PCB concentrations in blood serum?
- o What is the clinical significance of "abnormal" PCB blood serum concentrations?
- o What blood serum concentration level might be considered a potential health hazard for a worker to continue in his/her current job (i.e., PCB exposure)?

By letter dated January 10, 1990, the IDSP forwarded its response to the questions raised in Dr. Elgie's letter dated May 10, 1989.

Included in this notice are the following:

1. the Panel's letter of transmittal dated January 10, 1990
2. the Panel's response to supplementary questions on occupational PCBs which includes Appendix A (Serum PCBs in Normal and Exposed Populations), and
3. the Chairman's letter of May 10, 1989.

In accordance with subsection 86p(11) of the Workers' Compensation Act, the Board has published this notice setting forth the nature of the findings of the Panel and hereby requests written comments, briefs and submissions from any interested parties. Comments, briefs and submissions must be filed with the Board within 90 days from the date of this notice.

All comments, briefs and submissions should be sent to Linda Angove, Secretary to the Board, Workers' Compensation Board, 2 Bloor Street East, 20th Floor, Toronto, Ontario. M4W 3C3.

Upon the expiry of the 90 day period herein, the Board, pursuant to subsection 86p(12), may accept the findings of the Panel with or without amendments or it may reject the findings.

Notice of the Board's acceptance or rejection, with reasons therefore, will be published in the Ontario Gazette in accordance with subsection 86p(14) of the Workers' Compensation Act.

MEMORANDUM TO: WORKERS' COMPENSATION BOARD

FROM: INDUSTRIAL DISEASE STANDARDS PANEL

RE: RESPONSE TO SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTIONS ON OCCUPATIONAL PCB EXPOSURES

1.0 BACKGROUND AND SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTIONS

1.1 In December, 1987, the Panel issued its REPORT TO THE WORKERS' COMPENSATION BOARD ON OCCUPATIONAL EXPOSURE TO PCBs (IDSP Report No. 2). In that Report, the Panel found a probable connection between liver, biliary tract and gall bladder cancers and occupational exposure to PCBs (Finding 1). It also found no probable connection between any other site-specific cancers and occupational exposure to PCBs (Finding 2).

1.2 To assist the Board in its adjudication of liver cancer claims, the Panel provided two eligibility rules. The first rule recommended compensation when the claimant had at least 3 months of occupational PCB exposure, and at least 5 years of latency from first exposure to diagnosis (Eligibility Rule 1). A second rule was intended to address situations "of short, intense exposure to PCBs arising from sudden and unusual work circumstances such as PCB fires or explosions" (IDSP Report No. 2, p.7). The rule is quoted in its entirety below:

ELIGIBILITY RULE 2: WHERE DISPUTE ARISES IN THE APPLICATION OF ELIGIBILITY RULE 1 AND CIRCUMSTANCES PERMIT, CLAIMS ARISING FROM LIVER, BILIARY TRACT AND GALL BLADDER CANCERS AMONG WORKERS FOR WHOM THE BODY BURDEN OF PCBs AS MEASURED BY PCB BLOOD SERUM CONCENTRATIONS IS SIGNIFICANTLY HIGHER THAN THE NORMAL BACKGROUND DISTRIBUTION OF PCB BLOOD SERUM CONCENTRATIONS IN THE GENERAL POPULATION, BE COMPENSATED.

1.3 On May 10, 1989, the Board wrote the Panel requesting an elaboration of its Eligibility Rule 2. In particular, the Board requested answers to the following questions:

- Q1. What is the relevance of blood serum PCB levels to overall PCB body burden?
- Q2. What does the Panel consider to be a PCB level that is significantly higher than the normal background concentration found in the general population?
- Q3. What are the recommended procedures for sampling and analysis of PCB concentrations in blood serum?
- Q4. What is the clinical significance of "abnormal" PCB blood serum concentrations?
- Q5. What blood serum concentration level might be considered a potential health hazard for a worker to continue in his/her current job (i.e. PCB exposure)?

2.0 PANEL RESPONSE AND RECOMMENDATION

- 2.1 The Panel decided to respond to the first three questions only because the last two (on the clinical significance of "abnormal" PCB blood serum concentrations; and on worker removal criteria) were not material to the elaboration of Eligibility Rule 2. Accordingly, Panel staff prepared a report responding to these questions. The report is attached as Appendix A ('Serum PCBs in Normal and Exposed Populations', L.F. Smith, Nov. 6, 1989).
- 2.2 On the relevance of blood serum PCB levels to overall PCB body burden (the Board's Q1.), the report points out that PCBs are detectable in all organ systems of the body. However, the largest proportion are found in the adipose tissue compartment (the storage medium), and are also measurable in blood (the transport medium). The recent scientific literature shows that the overall PCB body burden can be determined from the serum PCB level when combined with measurements of serum lipids and total body fat estimates (Appendix A, p.4).
- 2.3 On the question of a PCB serum level that is 'significantly' higher than the normal background concentrations found in the general population (the Board's Q2.), the issue is complicated by the fact that observed PCB levels appear to drop quickly following removal from exposure. Given sufficient time (as little as 4 to 6 weeks), PCB concentrations can decline to the point where they do not differ significantly from those for the general population unexposed beyond the food chain. For instance, one study showed that the levels of total PCBs in the adipose fat of previously exposed workers and unexposed workers were not significantly different. Moreover, the serum PCB levels for previously exposed workers were intermediate to those for currently exposed workers and workers unexposed beyond the food chain (Fait et al., 1989).

- 2.4 Even 'normal' levels of serum PCBs are subject to variability due to different stresses (e.g. major weight loss, pregnancy, etc.). Population levels for serum PCBs can range up to 30 ppb although observed means are usually below 10 ppb. The corresponding adipose fat PCB concentrations are about 100 to 150 times the values for blood, or about 1500 ppb (Appendix A, p. 4-7).
- 2.5 The question of higher than normal PCB serum levels is complicated further by the vagaries in measurements (the Board's Q3.). Serum levels below 20 ppb can be considered as "possibly confounded by other organochlorine compounds". Levels above 20 ppb must be confirmed by an appropriate method (viz. gas chromatography coupled with mass spectrometry); as well as by the use of a single laboratory to ensure consistency of measurements and standardization of procedures (Appendix A, p. 7-10).
- 2.6 For all of the above reasons, the Panel has decided to move away from blood serum assays when considering instances of intense PCB exposure arising from sudden and unusual work circumstances such as fires, explosions or accidents. Instead, the Panel recommends the Board's adoption of the following revised Eligibility Rule 2:

ELIGIBILITY RULE 2: NOTWITHSTANDING THE MINIMUM EXPOSURE DURATION PERIOD IN ELIGIBILITY RULE 1, CLAIMS ARISING FROM LIVER, BILIARY TRACT AND GALL BLADDER CANCERS AMONG WORKERS SHALL BE COMPENSATED WHERE THERE IS EVIDENCE OF INTENSE EXPOSURE TO PCBs SUCH AS THAT OCCASIONED BY FIRE, EXPLOSION OR ACCIDENT.

- 2.7 This Memorandum has been approved by all Panel Members present at IDSP Meeting No. 34 on January 10, 1990 (Panel Members Buck, Chong, Dupre, Hess, Miller and Stevens).

SERUM PCBs IN NORMAL AND EXPOSED POPULATIONS

L.F. Smith

Industrial Disease Standards Panel
November 6, 1989Introduction:

The Industrial Disease Standards Panel published its Report to the Workers' Compensation Board on Occupational PCB Exposure in December, 1987 (IDSP Report No. 2). In this report, the Panel recommended two eligibility rules for the compensation of claims among workers with cancers of the liver, biliary tract or gall bladder and with opportunity for exposure to PCBs in the workplace. The first eligibility rule required at least three months of employment in a workplace with PCB exposure and at least a five year latency from the time of first exposure.

The Panel recognized that brief, intense exposures (e.g. in fires or explosions) may occur and that the worker in such a circumstance might not meet the minimum exposure duration (three months) and or the latency requirement (five years) required under Eligibility Rule 1. Thus, the Panel recommended that where a dispute arises in the application of Eligibility Rule 1 and circumstances permit, such claims be compensated if it can be demonstrated in the worker that '... the body burden of PCBs as measured by PCB blood serum concentration is significantly higher than the normal background distribution of PCB blood serum concentrations in the general population.'

In response to these Panel recommendations, the Workers' Compensation Board has asked the Panel to answer the following questions (Letter from R.G. Elgie dated May 10, 1989):

1. What is the relevance of blood serum PCB levels to overall PCB body burden?
2. What does the Panel consider to be a PCB level that is significantly higher than the normal background concentration found in the general population?
3. What are the recommended procedures for sampling and analysis of PCB concentrations in blood serum?
4. What is the clinical significance of "abnormal" PCB blood serum concentrations?
5. What blood serum concentration level might be considered a potential health hazard for a worker to continue in his/her current job (i.e. PCB exposure)?

The present review addresses the first three questions posed to the Panel by the Board.

A dispute could arise in the application of the eligibility rules where a worker had 'opportunity for exposure' (e.g. from a fire, explosion, spill, transient excursions of the threshold limit value, etc.) but where no monitoring of serum PCB level was available at or immediately following the time of the exposure. Such a worker might be subjected to a risk due to the added burden of PCBs in the body caused by a high, but transient exposure which would not meet the three month requirement of Rule 1.

CONSIDERATION OF THE BOARD'S QUESTIONS:

1. What is the relevance of blood serum PCB levels to overall PCB body burden?

This question raises two issues:

- . How does blood PCB concentration relate to body burden?
- . How does one measure the PCB body burden?

PCBs comprise a group of compounds containing a biphenyl nucleus with different numbers of chlorine atoms attached. Biphenyl molecules with different numbers of chlorine atoms attached are known as congeners of polychlorinated biphenyls. There are 209 such compounds. Two PCB molecules containing the same number of chlorine atoms in different locations of the biphenyl molecular ring may differ considerably in their behaviour. Such (nearly identical) molecules are referred to as isomers. PCB isomers are distinguished by the location of the atoms of chlorine (structural isomers) or by the spatial relationship of the chlorine atoms within the molecule (stereochemical isomers).

Some level of PCBs can be detected in all organs, the largest proportion being found in the adipose tissue compartment (fat). PCB concentration can be measured in blood (the transport medium) and in fat (the storage medium). However, blood is readily accessible for measurement while fat can only be obtained through an invasive procedure such as suction of subcutaneous fat or excision of adipose tissue during surgery for another reason.

PCBs in the blood are in dynamic equilibrium with stored (adipose tissue fat) PCBs. The 209 congeners of PCB have different half-lives in the body. Bertazzi reported an approximate half-life for PCB blood concentrations of Aroclor 1254 of about ten years (Bertazzi, P.A. in IDSP Report no. 2, 1987). One infers thereby that the PCB body burden has on average also fallen by 50% in ten years. From studies in mice, it is known that some congeners are cleared relatively quickly while others persist. Elimination studies of working populations usually consider men only. The half-life in women may vary significantly from men. Yakushiji et al. reported a 9.2% decrease per year in Japanese women with occupational exposure (Yakushiji et al., 1984). This rate was similar to the elimination rate in their offspring (10% per year) after adjustment for growth. The elimination of PCBs in females is aided by pregnancy and lactation which provide added excretion pathways through the milk and placenta. Females at all ages tend to have lower serum PCB levels than males (Kreiss and Roberts, 1982).

The relationship between the PCBs in adipose tissue fat, blood, and vital organs may vary considerably (Matthews, 1984). This relationship is influenced by exposure level, age, sex, size of adipose tissue fat compartment, length of exposure, and time of exposure (current vs. past) (Kimbrough, 1985). This relationship also varies with the particular PCB congener (i.e. degree of chlorination) (Fait et al., 1989). Variations of blood PCB level occur depending on physiological state: fasting, weight loss or weight gain, pregnancy, breast feeding, etc. Blood PCB level is associated with age, serum lipids, and (contaminated) fish consumption among many other variables (Kreiss, 1985; Schwartz et al., 1983).

Brown and Lawton (1984) examined 173 capacitor workers exposed to Aroclor 1254, 1242 and 1016. Wolff et al. reported the fat-plasma distribution coefficients of 35 PCB isomers in 26 of these 173 capacitor workers (Wolff et al., 1982). Wolff found that the ratio between adipose fat and blood concentrations varies from under 100:1 to over 300:1 (average 190:1).

Neutral lipids (i.e. neutral fats) or glycerides are a major component of storage fat (in adipose tissue fat cells). Triglycerides are one portion of the neutral fat content. Cholesterol is a non-glyceride component of fat found in serum either "free" or attached to glycerides. Brown and Lawton (1984) empirically found that PCBs partition between serum and adipose tissue fat in direct proportion to their content of neutral lipids, and not to their content of cholesterol.

In particular, Brown and Lawton examined a capacitor worker with hyperlipemia (high serum lipid concentrations) from the same group of workers reported above. Three congeners of PCBs were measured before and after a weight-reduction diet resulting in 4.5 kg weight loss. The serum PCB levels changed as follows: Aroclor 1244 - 1195 to 774 ppb; Aroclor 1254 - 57 to 33 ppb; Aroclor 1260 - 30 to 19 ppb. Serum triglycerides changed from 675 to 218 mg%; cholesterol from 236 to 240 mg%. These results demonstrate the dependence of serum PCB level upon the serum lipid concentration (i.e. neutral fat concentration).

These authors demonstrated the following model of PCB distribution applicable to humans. In the equilibrium state, the ratio of serum lipid PCBs to that of the total serum neutral lipids or glycerides is equal to the ratio of adipose fat PCB level to the neutral fat content of the tissues. This equilibrium relationship can be applied to the individual. If an estimate of total body fat is available, the total body burden of PCBs can be estimated roughly from measurement of serum PCBs and serum lipid levels alone. That is, the total body burden of PCBs can be estimated by multiplying the ratio of serum PCB concentration to serum lipid concentration by the total body fat content.

In summary, to answer question 1, the best estimate of PCB body burden is obtained by determining the concentration of serum lipid PCBs and the estimate of total body fat. Serum PCB level is the nearest indirect measure of body burden one can obtain when combined with serum lipids and total body fat.

2. What does the Panel consider to be a PCB level that is significantly higher than the normal background concentration found in the general population?

Fait et al. (1989) reported the levels of total PCBs (and PCB congeners) in the serum and adipose fat of past and present transformer workers and an unexposed comparison group. The results of some of their findings are presented in Tables 1, 2, and 3. They noted that the total PCB levels in adipose fat of previously exposed workers and unexposed workers were not significantly different. They concluded that there had been significant elimination over time. Therefore, the level of PCB in fat might not be discriminating enough to distinguish a previously exposed worker from 'background' if sufficient time has elapsed since the exposure of interest.

Given the number of variables which affect the level of PCBs in the blood of an individual and the vagaries of measurement (discussed separately below), normal values are probably best interpreted from the analysis of blood from large samples of the general population not exposed beyond the food chain. Also given that adipose tissue levels may not be available for the purpose of interpretation of a blood PCB level in an individual, then blood (preferably serum) PCB is the best estimate of that individual's body burden provided there are no extraordinary stresses such as major weight loss, pregnancy, etc., or current extraordinary exposure. One must consider the time when 'extra' exposure to PCBs occurred in interpreting whether an individual falls outside the range of 'normal'. For example, immediately after a single, acute exposure (such as from a spill or transformer fire), blood PCB rises only to fall to pre-exposure level in about four to six weeks (Luotamo et al., 1985; Elo et al, 1985; Wolff, 1985).

As the body eliminates significant amounts of PCBs over time, a level of PCB in fat (whether calculated by formula from serum lipids, serum PCBs and total body fat) or measured directly in fat (obtained by biopsy) only reflects current body burden which may not differ from 'background' and may not reflect the body burden at the time that the exposure of interest occurred. A demonstrated rise in serum PCB level with a demonstrated fall to pre-exposure level within six weeks of exposure represents the best evidence of acute exposure.

PCBs are a mixture of compounds with various degrees of chlorination, toxicity and retention in the body. The general population is exposed to PCBs primarily through the food chain. The earliest exposure occurs through mother's milk. Continued exposure is assured through milk, eggs, fish and meat. Additional exposure can occur through the consumption of marine mammals, a custom prevalent in certain population groups such as the Inuit. An individual exposed through an occupation may have an added body burden of PCBs above a background. If the background level can be estimated, then the difference between that and the measured burden in the individual would reflect the occupational component.

What test for an individual worker, therefore, could discriminate between a previous significant exposure and no exposure beyond the food chain?

The level of PCB as measured in blood or fat, and the corresponding total body burden in the general population reflect the background for those not exposed beyond the food chain. The literature was reviewed to establish the state of knowledge on normal background levels for blood and fat PCBs. Since PCBs are stored in fat, all variables being equal, total body burden would be reflected in their concentration in that tissue.

Blood PCBs

Several environmental accidents have provided the opportunity to study the level of PCBs in the blood of a large number of individuals. In 1973, the fire retardant Flamemaster (composed of PBBs or polybrominated biphenyls), made by the same company as Nutrimaster, a cattle feed additive (magnesium oxide), was accidentally mixed into cattle feed. This mixup resulted in the contamination of a large number of cattle with PBBs and consequently, of thousands of people in the state of Michigan. The followup of this large cohort exposed to PBBs has also included measurements for PCBs (Kreiss et al., 1985). The measurements for PCBs reflect background values. Control values were sought when acute exposures occurred (fires, explosions) and these values are also presented.

Table 1 lists all the reviewed studies by author, year, number of subjects, medium analyzed, and levels found. Table 2 contains data from the same studies on blood (Table 2A) and fat (Table 2B) PCB levels for control groups unexposed beyond the food chain.

Kimbrough (1985) reports that data from the Centers for Disease Control in the United States show that the mean PCB concentration in the serum of individuals not exposed beyond the food chain is between 5 to 7 ppb, and that some individuals may have higher levels without any evidence of extraordinary exposure. Safe (1987) refers to levels from <10 to 15 ppb in the general population unexposed beyond the food chain. Kreiss et al. (1982) have reported the largest population of individuals unexposed beyond the food chain. The highest level found was 57 ppb, the arithmetic mean 7.7 ppb and the geometric mean 6.4 ppb (males: 7.1 ppb; females: 5.7 ppb). Ninety-five percent of this population unexposed beyond the food chain had a serum PCB level of less than 20 ppb (Kreiss, 1985). This large sample of North Americans unexposed beyond the food chain probably reflects the best estimate of "background". The average blood PCB level for this group unstandardized for age and sex is 10 ppb (Kreiss, 1985). This is supported by a more recent survey of a population applying for work tested as part of the pre-employment assessment. This group, the second largest U.S. sample, showed a mean blood PCB level of 5 ppb [\pm std. dev'n. of 4.25 ppb] with a range from 1 to 37 ppb (Sahl et al., 1987).

In a smaller sample of 58 persons, Fait et al. found that 75% had a serum PCB level below 25 ppb. The several reports of residents living around an area with PCBs in soil have generally not demonstrated a range of values different from those reported by Kreiss et al. or others. Average levels in such populations with opportunity for exposure have been close to or lower than those unexposed beyond the food chain (Jan and Tratnik, 1988; Smith, 1986). Non-randomly selected population samples have been tested for PCB concentration in the blood. At least a dozen such groups unexposed beyond the food chain report a range of PCB in blood of 0 to 60 ppb, a distribution of values similar to those of the largest sample (Kreiss and Roberts, 1982; Kreiss, 1985).

US CDC data show that the adipose tissue concentration of PCBs is about 100 to 200 times as high as the serum level (500 to 1400 ppb) (Kimbrough, 1985).

Several transformer accidents have afforded opportunities to study PCBs in the blood of acutely exposed groups. The values reported in Table 3 are among workers acutely exposed during transformer spills or fires. Some acute exposures were superimposed on chronic exposure.

Emmett studied 55 current and past PCB-exposed transformer workers. Serum PCB and adipose fat PCB levels were determined.

Adipose fat and serum PCB were higher in currently exposed workers (2100 ppb mean in adipose fat; 12.2 ppb in serum) than in past exposed (830 ppb mean in adipose fat ; 5.9 ppb in serum) or never exposed (600 ppb mean in adipose fat; 4.6 ppb in serum) (Emmett, 1985). However, there was no difference between the past exposed group and the unexposed group for either serum or fat.

Fait et al. studied a group of past and present transformer repair workers and a comparison group. A pattern similar to Emmett's was found. Serum PCBs were highest in the currently exposed group and lowest in the never exposed while the past exposed was intermediate. Adipose fat PCBs in the currently exposed was much higher than in the other two groups but the distribution of values in the past exposed and unexposed was similar (Fait et al., 1989). Both of these well-conducted studies suggest that serum PCB alone, or adipose fat PCB alone will not distinguish the past exposed from the never exposed.

These values may be applied to population or group averages (means) rather than to individuals.

Even though the equilibrium model proposed by Brown and Lawton can help in calculating body burden with certain parameters in hand for an individual (total body fat, serum lipids and serum PCB), the result may not reflect an elevated body burden if the person has not had exposure to PCBs for a number of years. Table 3 shows values of PCBs in the blood of acutely and chronically-exposed groups which illustrate the points made by Emmett and by Fait et al.

In summary, the literature points to a population range of PCBs in blood of less than 30 ppb with occasional individuals exceeding this level. The unstandardized population mean is below 10 ppb. The corresponding values for adipose fat PCB level is in the range of 100 to 150 times that of the blood, or about 1500 ppb.

3. What are the recommended procedures for sampling and analysis of PCB concentrations in blood serum?

Laboratory methods:

In order to ensure reliable measurements, the sampling protocol for PCBs, as for many other materials, must be rigorous from the taking of the blood through all of the analytic steps performed. Whole blood is collected from the donor, allowed to clot, and the resulting serum (whole blood minus cellular components and labile clotting factors) is analyzed for PCBs. Plasma (whole blood free of cellular elements only) is sometimes used for analysis; fat is rarely available. Whole blood (with all its cellular elements) is used by some laboratories. Analysis of whole blood requires that the sample be homogenized before it is subjected to analysis. The tube in which blood is collected must be clean and free of the contaminant to be tested. Blood for PCB should be drawn by glass syringe and placed into a glass tube with no anticoagulant. This allows the blood to clot and clot retraction to take place, leaving clean serum behind. Some laboratories may still use whole blood or plasma as the medium for analysis but serum is generally preferred. The Ontario Ministry of Labour Occupational Health Laboratory will accept vacuum collecting tubes (Vacutainer[®]) without anticoagulant for analysis. They prefer that the sample be transferred to a teflon cap test tube. The use of plasma presupposes the use of an anticoagulant in the collection of the blood specimen and the possible need for additional clean-up during the extraction procedure discussed below.

Analytic methods now available generally use a four step procedure:

1. extraction of the PCBs from the medium (serum, plasma, fat, etc.);
2. cleanup of the sample;
3. separation of the PCBs from the extract; and
4. quantification with or without confirmation.

Problems which can arise in the handling of samples can be grouped into contamination, loss, desiccation and alteration (Albro, 1979). Errors can occur in the extraction process in that recovery from the sample may vary. Each laboratory must carry out its own quality control studies to ensure that the extraction process produces consistent recovery throughout all of the relevant concentrations for PCBs in the different media. These results should be reproducible. Similarly, the cleanup procedure must demonstrate consistently reliable results.

Extraction of PCBs:

PCBs are extracted from the fat in the sample by homogenizing the sample (in the case of tissue, fat or whole blood) and mixing with a solvent such as hexane, alcohol, chloroform, acetone.

McKinney et al. reported the most extensive study of laboratory methods using milk, serum and fat. They reported a recovery of 90 to 100% of radioactively-labelled Aroclor 1254 from serum (McKinney et al., 1984). Other reliable laboratories carrying out similar quality control procedures report a recovery of 84.6 +/- 11.4% (Luotamo et al., 1985). The Ontario Ministry of Labour Occupational Health Laboratory uses analytic methods similar to those reported throughout the literature (Dr. Mark Nazar, personal communication, June 29, 1987). Their PCB recovery from serum is about 90% (Dr. Virindar S. Gaiind, personal communication, October 11, 1989).

Clean-up:

This process involves the removal of fat and the separation of PCBs from other organochlorine compounds. The literature reports various ways of cleaning up the sample by the use of acetonitrile or dimethylformamide, or treatment with strong sulfuric acid or ethanolic potassium hydroxide. PCBs can be separated from organochlorine pesticides by column chromatography using Florisil, silica gel, or charcoal columns. Different laboratories tend to use different types of columns and materials for this step.

Chromatographic separation of PCBs:

The extract produced after cleanup is then presumed to contain the PCBs. This extract is submitted to gas-liquid chromatography and electron capture detection. Peaks (on graph paper) of different PCBs are obtained. Enhanced visual separation of these peaks occurs with by prior fractionation of the extract through charcoal or glass capillary columns.

Quantification of PCB content:

The response of the electron capture detector is affected by the degree of chlorination in the PCB sample. Degree of chlorination may vary with degradation (or metabolism) of the product. It is difficult then to match the obtained peaks of PCB metabolites with the peaks created by standard preparations of PCBs. Discrepancies in the reading of these peaks may occur.

Confirmation of identity of the PCBs:

Samples may then be subjected to analysis with mass spectroscopic methods which can determine very low concentrations of the PCBs.

Reference standards for all 209 PCB congeners are available now. This makes it easier to identify more accurately a variety of PCBs making the estimate of total PCBs also more accurate. However, most studies reported in the literature did not have the benefit of the now available standards so that comparison of some older reported values with current more accurate ones for this as well as other reasons is not advisable.

The Occupational Health Laboratory of the Ontario Ministry of Labour will confirm results of gas-liquid chromatography with gas chromatography-mass spectroscopy (GC-MS) if the quantification procedure indicates levels in blood above 20 ppb. The detection limit of the GC-MS is 20 ppb. Values lower than 20 ppb are considered "unconfirmed, possibly PCBs".

Laboratory comparisons:

Several investigators have pointed out that current methods used to measure PCBs may be relatively imprecise (Albro, 1979; Lawton and Ross, 1986; Burse et al., 1983a, 1983b). Lawton and Ross found considerable imprecision which they ascribed to random errors, interlaboratory variations in the procedure, and methods of data reporting (Lawton and Ross, 1986). Burse et al. (1983a) reported considerable variability in a comparison among twenty-five laboratories. A subsequent study of 44 laboratories demonstrated that interlaboratory variability of serum PCB measurements still remained but could be reduced by standardizing the methods (Burse et al. 1983b).

In conclusion, the literature is generally critical of the accuracy of the analytic methodology for PCBs. Levels below 20 ppb can be considered as "possibly confounded by other organochlorine compounds". Levels above 20 ppb must be confirmed as due to PCBs by an appropriate method such as gas chromatography coupled with mass spectroscopy. Comparability of results is aided by the use of a single laboratory with consistent results using the same medium (i.e. serum), and standard methods with high level of recovery and reliability. These limits must be considered in the interpretation of blood serum PCB levels especially in the lower concentration range (below 20 ppb). Some authors recommend the use of a single laboratory with an acceptable but stable extraction level even if the extraction is not very high rather than a high but inconsistent extraction. The literature warns that the differences found among laboratories merit attention when results of different studies are compared with each other and "... when considering the use of a specific serum PCB tolerance limit as a basis for administrative action" (Lawton and Ross, 1986).

Dr. Stefan Dupré
Chairman
Industrial Disease Standards Panel
10 King Street East

Dear Dr. Dupré:

Over the past few months, the Workers' Compensation Board has been reviewing the findings of the IDSP Report on Occupational Exposure to PCBs and all of the submissions made to the Board in response to that Report.

During the Board's review process, a number of questions were raised in connection with Eligibility Rule 2. I am writing to the IDSP to request that the Panel elaborate on Eligibility Rule 2 to assist the Board in its further consideration of PCB claims.

In particular, I would appreciate it if the Panel would answer the following questions:

- What is the relevance of blood serum PCB levels to overall PCB body burden?
- What does the Panel consider to be a PCB level that is significantly higher than the normal background concentration found in the general population?
- What are the recommended procedures for sampling and analysis of PCB concentrations in blood serum?
- What is the clinical significance of "abnormal" PCB blood serum concentrations?
- What blood serum concentration level might be considered a potential health hazard for a worker to continue in his/her current job (i.e., PCB exposure)?

In addition, please feel free to elaborate on any other issues you feel may be related to Eligibility Rule 2.

Although the Board of Directors, at its most recent meeting, deferred a decision for the time being with respect to the IDSP recommendations, let me say that we appreciate the effort and thought that has gone into the approach taken by the Panel. It also goes without saying that we certainly recognize the complexity of the issues.

In the course of our discussions, both as an Executive, and with our Board of Directors we have determined that it would be useful to all of us involved in compensation if the Board were to sponsor a Workshop/Discussion Forum on "Causation, Compensation and Occupational Disease". It would be our expectation that this will allow experts to discuss these challenging issues in a setting that will facilitate the development of new approaches to public policy development. I am enclosing a copy of a letter sent to each of the Deans, Faculty of Medicine in Ontario and to the Workers Compensation Board in Quebec.

Yours sincerely,

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987, PART II TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for extra-provincial truck transport operating licences under Part II of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These Applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirements pursuant to Section 8(2) of that Act and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences if no objection is served on the Applicant and filed with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, within twenty-nine days of this publication.

EXTRA-PROVINCIAL APPLICATIONS:

NOTE: Where the application is for a licence other than a corridor operating authority, an interested person who serves and files an objection must also provide the Ontario Highway Transport Board with written evidence, within thirty-nine days of this publication that satisfies that Board that, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, the operation of the undertaking in respect of which the licence is sought would likely be detrimental to the public interest.

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987

LOI DE 1987 SUR LES TRANSPORTS ROUTIERS

INTRA-PROVINCIAL TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for operating licences under Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirement in like manner to section 6 of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences unless a person, within thirty days of this publication, serves on the Applicant and files with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, a written request for a fitness hearing or a public interest test in like manner to Subsection 7(4) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64.

NOTE: A person who requests a public interest hearing must, within thirty-nine days of this publication, serve on the Ontario Highway Transport Board a document that makes out a written case to the Board that the granting of the operating authority applied for would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on the public interest using the criteria set out in subsection 10(1) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and that the request is not frivolously made.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987, PART II TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for extra-provincial truck transport operating licences under Part II of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These Applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirements pursuant to Section 8(2) of that Act and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences if no objection is served on the Applicant and filed with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, within twenty-nine days of this publication.

EXTRA-PROVINCIAL APPLICATIONS:

NOTE: Where the application is for a licence other than a corridor operating authority, an interested person who serves and files an objection must also provide the Ontario Highway Transport Board with written evidence, within thirty-nine days of this publication that satisfies that Board that, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, the operation of the undertaking in respect of which the licence is sought would likely be detrimental to the public interest.

INTRA-PROVINCIAL TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for operating licences under Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirement in like manner to section 6 of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences unless a person, within thirty days of this publication, serves on the Applicant and files with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, a written request for a fitness hearing or a public interest test in like manner to Subsection 7(4) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64.

NOTE: A person who requests a public interest hearing must, within thirty-nine days of this publication, serve on the Ontario Highway Transport Board a document that makes out a written case to the Board that the granting of the operating authority applied for would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on the public interest using the criteria set out in subsection 10(1) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and that the request is not frivolously made.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987

LOI DE 1987 SUR LES TRANSPORTS ROUTIERS

INTRA-PROVINCIAL TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for operating licences under Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirement in like manner to section 6 of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences unless a person, within thirty days of this publication, serves on the Applicant and files with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, a written request for a fitness hearing or a public interest test in like manner to Subsection 7(4) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64.

NOTE: A person who requests a public interest hearing must, within thirty-nine days of this publication, serve on the Ontario Highway Transport Board a document that makes out a written case to the Board that the granting of the operating authority applied for would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on the public interest using the criteria set out in subsection 10(1) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and that the request is not frivolously made.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.

ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACTO. Reg. 78/90.

Exemption—City of

Brantford—BRAN-C-1.

Made—February 9th, 1990.

Approved—February 9th, 1990.

Filed—February 19th, 1990.

ORDER MADE UNDER THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT

EXEMPTION—CITY OF BRANTFORD—BRAN-C-1

Having received a request from The Corporation of the City of Brantford (the "City") that an undertaking, namely:

the activity of developing its Northwest Industrial Area, an area of some 625 ha (1,500 acres) providing for mixed industrial use on a range of lot sizes, be exempt from the application of the Act pursuant to section 29; and

Having been advised by the City that if the undertaking is subject to the application of the Act, the following injury, damage or interference with the persons and property indicated will occur:

- A. The City needs new industrial land in the short-term. If the undertaking were subject to an individual environmental assessment, then there would be delays which would be injurious to the economy of Brantford. In addition, the well-being of the ratepayers of the municipality would be damaged due to the lack of new employment opportunities. The lack of provision of new industrial lands would interfere with continuing economic growth and prosperity.
- B. The City has provincial funds available up until 1994 to assist it with the development of the Northwest Industrial Area and will not be able to fully utilize these funds if required to obtain approval under the Environmental Assessment Act.

Having weighed such injury, damage or interference against the betterment of the people of the whole or any part of Ontario by the protection, conservation and wise management of the environment of Ontario which would result from the undertaking being subject to the application of the Act, the undersigned is of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and orders that the undertaking is exempt from the application of the Act for the following reasons:

- A. The area has been the subject of numerous local and provincial studies and was selected as an area for future development during the Brantford boundary negotiations. Official Plan policies also designate the area for industrial uses. The principle of industrial development in this area is well researched and the basic development and servicing concepts are well within conventional development practice in Ontario. Previous studies have not only addressed environmental concerns but have also addressed the issues of marketability and design, development costs and financial implications relating to the development of the Northwest Industrial Area.

The previous studies undertaken have addressed a broad range of alternatives including: alternative areas for development, alternative design concepts, alternatives for the provision of services to the area and alternative servicing standards. An extensive public and agency consultation program has been included in previous studies conducted and will continue to be a vital component of the current studies.

- B. Detailed studies on all servicing and development issues will be required as part of the secondary plan and draft plan approvals process. The City will comply with all the pertinent requirements of the Planning Act, 1983.

- C. Several of the activities anticipated as part of the development of this area of Brantford are covered by existing Class Environmental Assessments, specifically the trunk sewer extension, water trunk extension, booster pumping station, reservoir construction and road reconstruction. The Class Environmental Assessment for Municipal Road Projects and the Class Environmental Assessment for Municipal Sewage and Water Projects will be followed.
- D. Local environmental impacts will be addressed in the preparation of the secondary plan, which will be developed in conjunction with the Interministerial Committee.

This exemption is subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. The City shall contact Provincial and local review agencies to establish their interest in the planning and development of the Northwest Industrial Area and provide information to the Director of the West Central Region of the Ministry of the Environment on how the identified concerns will be addressed in the Secondary Plan and servicing studies.
2. The City shall conduct public meetings on the subject of the development of this area in accordance with the requirements of the Planning Act, 1983 and provide information to the Director of the West Central Region of the Ministry of the Environment on how identified concerns will be addressed by policies or conditions of approval.
3. The City shall prepare a secondary plan under the Planning Act, 1983 with background studies to address issues and concerns identified, and circulate those documents to concerned agencies for comment. Specific studies will include:
 - existing land use and socio-economic conditions in surrounding areas;
 - existing and proposed aggregate mining activities;
 - traffic and circulation;
 - natural environment;
 - cultural and heritage environment;
 - development opportunities and constraints;

- proposed land use;
 - proposed circulation system, servicing system, master drainage plan and grading;
 - proposed measures to avoid or reduce effects on adjoining properties and features of the natural or heritage environment.
4. The City shall prepare a draft plan of subdivision for lands under its control which are intended for development, consult with concerned agencies and enter into necessary agreements for the development of those lands.

5. The City shall proceed with the planning and development of sewage and waterworks in accordance with the appropriate Class Environmental Assessment.

The City will follow the requirements of the Class Environmental Assessment for Municipal Sewage and Water Projects as prepared by the Municipal Engineers Association.

6. The City shall consolidate and summarize the cumulative effects of development activities on the site and for the supporting off-site infrastructure for agency and public review through both the secondary plan documents and the Class Environmental Assessment documents.
7. The City may not proceed under this Exemption Order unless construction commences by 1994.
8. The proponent shall advise the Director of the Environmental Assessment Branch on how the conditions of exemption have been met within six months of the approval of this order. Should there be outstanding work, the proponent will continue to advise the Director of the Environmental Assessment Branch on how the conditions of exemption have been met.
9. Where a project that is exempt by this order is being carried out as, or is part of, an undertaking that has an approval or another exemption under the Environmental Assessment Act, that project shall be carried out according to the terms and conditions of this order, any approval, and any other order. In the event of a conflict, the Minister of the Environment shall decide how the project is to be carried out. O. Reg. 78/90.

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987, PART II TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for extra-provincial truck transport operating licences under Part II of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These Applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirements pursuant to Section 8(2) of that Act and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences if no objection is served on the Applicant and filed with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, within twenty-nine days of this publication.

EXTRA-PROVINCIAL APPLICATIONS:

NOTE: Where the application is for a licence other than a corridor operating authority, an interested person who serves and files an objection must also provide the Ontario Highway Transport Board with written evidence, within thirty-nine days of this publication that satisfies that Board that, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, the operation of the undertaking in respect of which the licence is sought would likely be detrimental to the public interest.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987

LOI DE 1987 SUR LES TRANSPORTS ROUTIERS

INTRA-PROVINCIAL TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for operating licences under Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirement in like manner to section 6 of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences unless a person, within thirty days of this publication, serves on the Applicant and files with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, a written request for a fitness hearing or a public interest test in like manner to Subsection 7(4) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64.

NOTE: A person who requests a public interest hearing must, within thirty-nine days of this publication, serve on the Ontario Highway Transport Board a document that makes out a written case to the Board that the granting of the operating authority applied for would be likely to have a significant detrimental effect on the public interest using the criteria set out in subsection 10(1) of the Truck Transportation Act, 1988, S.O. 1988, Chapter 64, and that the request is not frivolously made.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.

AVIS PUBLIC

Demande d'exploitation d'une entreprise de camionnage présentée en vertu de la partie II de la LOI DE 1987 SUR LES TRANSPORTS ROUTIERS

Le requérant mentionné ci-après a présenté une demande de licence en vertu de la partie II de la Loi de 1987 sur les transports routiers. La demande a été publiée dans la Gazette de l'Ontario du 13 janvier 1990.

L'avis d'objection et la preuve écrite ont été joints à cette demande et déposés par les intéressés dans les délais prescrits. La Commission des transports routiers de l'Ontario a pris en considération la preuve déposée et estime que, faute de preuve contraire, l'exploitation de l'entreprise de camionnage faisant l'objet d'une demande de licence serait sans doute préjudiciable à l'intérêt public.

Par conséquent, la Commission a décidé qu'une audience publique aurait lieu dans la salle de tribunal de la Commission, Britannica House, 151, rue Bloor ouest, 10e étage, Toronto, Ontario, tel qu'indiqué ci-après.

Pour de plus amples renseignements sur cette audience, s'adresser au secrétaire de la Commission.

(3) The category-specific monitoring schedule for each plant is as set out in Schedule A.

(4) Sections 3 to 7 of the General Effluent Monitoring Regulation and sections 4 to 14 of this Regulation do not apply in respect of plants in the Non-Monitoring Plants Category.

(5) A direct discharger whose plant is in the Quarries or Sand and Gravel Category who demonstrates to the Director, by means of a written report, that the total volume of effluent discharged from the plant on each day during the period beginning on the 1st day of March, 1990 and ending on the 31st day of May, 1990 is less than 50,000 litres, need not comply with the requirements of sections 3 to 7 of the General Effluent Monitoring Regulation and sections 4 to 15 of this Regulation in respect of that plant.

(6) The report referred to in subsection (5) shall be certified by a professional engineer of the Province of Ontario and shall be submitted by the 30th day of June, 1990.

(9) An obligation on a direct discharger to do a thing under this Regulation is discharged if another person has done it on the direct discharger's behalf.

(10) A direct discharger who for any period of time does not discharge an effluent is exempt, for that period, from the requirements of this Regulation that pertain to that effluent.

(11) Subsection 3 (29) of the General Effluent Monitoring Regulation does not apply where a direct discharger is governed by this Regulation.

(12) In addition to complying with subsection 3 (19) of the General Effluent Monitoring Regulation, each direct discharger shall use only sampling equipment for the collection of samples, the wettable surfaces of which are made of fluorocarbon resins, glass, stainless steel, high or low density polyethylene, polyethylene terephthalate, polystyrene or polypropylene for samples that are to be analyzed for parameters in analytical test groups IM1, IM3 and IM4 as set out in Schedule B.

(13) Despite subsection (12), a direct discharger may use sampling devices that contain a short section of surgical grade silicone rubber tubing or other tubing approved by the Director if such tubing cannot be replaced by a material mentioned in subsection (12) without impairing the operation of the device.

(14) Each direct discharger shall collect each sample to be analyzed for the parameter in analytical test group IM2 as set out in Schedule B directly into a plastic container that has never been used before.

(3) For the purpose of calculating a calculated retention time, each direct discharger shall measure or estimate the daily flow of a stream at a location or set of locations representative of the flow of the stream, using only methods, devices and calculations that are capable of accuracy to within plus or minus 20 per cent of the actual flow.

(4) For the purposes of this Regulation, a calculated retention time must be calculated on or before the day on which the direct discharger is required to submit an initial report under subsection 14 (1).

(5) Subject to subsections (6) to (9), each direct discharger shall collect each sample required to be collected by this Regulation,

- (a) by one of the means described in clause 3 (4) (a), (c) or (e) of the General Effluent Monitoring Regulation; or

Exemption—Ministry of the

Made—February 23rd, 1990.

Approved—February 23rd, 1990.

Filed—March 2nd, 1990.

ORDER MADE UNDER THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT

EXEMPTION—MINISTRY OF THE ENVIRONMENT—MOE-31/2

Having received a request from the Regional Director, West Central Region, Ministry of the Environment, that an undertaking, namely:

The activity of managing the contaminated wastes which may be found in the soil and groundwater both in and around the property of Chemical Waste Management Limited at Site 7, Lot 6, Concession 9, Smithville Industrial Park, Township of West Lincoln, Regional Municipality of Niagara, which management activities involve an ongoing securing and control of contaminated wastes, destruction of secured PCB wastes, remediation of contaminated groundwater and bedrock, and the off-site disposal of contaminated wastes which may not be suitable for destruction, be exempt from the application of the Act pursuant to section 29; and

Having been advised by the Regional Director, West Central Region, Ministry of the Environment, that if the undertaking is subject to the application of the Act, the following injury, damage or interference with the persons and property indicated will occur:

- A. The time which would be involved in preparing an Environmental Assessment and seeking approval under the Act would significantly delay the implementation of the undertaking exacerbating the following situations:

- (i) Contaminants from the site have gained access to groundwater. An aquifer, located in close proximity to the site, is a source of water supply to local area residents. The aquifer has been contaminated, thereby potentially threatening the health of the local area residents, and impairing a resource which was being used as a source of water supply to the Community of Smithville;
- (ii) Surface and groundwater flows discharge to Spring Creek and then to Twenty Mile Creek, a major watercourse in the area. Since contaminant inputs, such as PCBs bio-magnify through the food chain, failure to take action may result in the contamination of the aquatic life of Spring Creek and Twenty Mile Creek; and
- (iii) Members of the public may be exposed to contaminants as the community uses surrounding areas for recreational or other public activities.

Having weighed such injury, damage or interference against the betterment of the people of the whole or any part of Ontario by the protection, conservation and wise management in Ontario of the environment which would result from the undertaking being subject to the application of the Act;

The undersigned is of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and orders that the undertaking is exempt from the application of the Act for the following reasons:

- A. The tasks involved in managing the contaminated waste can be commenced immediately. This will result in minimizing the potential for the injury and damage which are cited above.

- B. The public and the Municipality are anxious that the undertaking be implemented as soon as possible to avoid further potential public exposure to, and off-site migration of, subsurface contaminated wastes.
- C. The Ministry of the Environment and the Municipality are negotiating an agreement with respect to how the cleanup and storage of PCB waste shall proceed, which when finalized will be filed with the public records maintained under section 31 of the Act by the Environmental Assessment Branch of the Ministry of the Environment at its main office.
- D. A Liaison Committee with representatives from the local citizens has been established to monitor progress made in the cleanup of the site and eventual disposal of the contaminated wastes.
- E. The various instructions, approvals and orders which may be issued under the Environmental Protection Act and the Ontario Water Resources Act will result in the management activities being carried out in a safe manner.
- F. It is necessary to replace exemption order MOE 31/1 because the date for terminating storage of liquid PCB wastes in that order has elapsed, while approvals for the destruction of PCB wastes are still in the course of being obtained.

This exemption is subject to the following terms and conditions:

- 1. No wastes other than contaminated soil, water or other materials from the management activities being carried out under this Order shall be brought to the site.
- 2. This undertaking involves the management of wastes, including:
 - (a) Cleaning up the site and immediately surrounding area and bedrock;
 - (b) Destroying, by approved mobile incineration facilities, PCB waste stored at the site;
 - (c) Decontaminating PCB contaminated soils and possibly bedrock, and subsequently redepositing them;
 - (d) Storing, temporarily, in existing or new structures, any waste that cannot be destroyed or decontaminated on the property until it can be removed to other certified waste disposal sites when they become available; and

- (e) Offering first Right of acquisition of the property to the Corporation of the Township of West Lincoln once the site has been restored to a clean condition so that it may be used for the originally intended use.
3. The principal activities associated with the undertaking include the following:
- (a) Acquisition, through ownership by the Province of the property formerly used by Chemical Waste Management Limited at the Smithville Site and acquisition of the right to use any necessary adjacent property;
 - (b) Consolidation of the wastes, including: contaminated soils, contaminated equipment and materials associated with ongoing cleanup activities at the site;
 - (c) Destruction of PCB wastes by means of approved facilities;
 - (d) Construction and preparation of a waste water treatment facility for treatment of contaminated water, as an initial short term remedial activity;
 - (e) Trial excavation of the bedrock and selection and implementation of the appropriate technology for remediation of the contaminated groundwater and bedrock;
 - (f) Removal from the site of any wastes that cannot be destroyed or decontaminated; and
 - (g) Continuation of an appropriate groundwater monitoring program.
4. This Order does not apply to the storage of PCB wastes on the site after July 31, 1991.
5. The Liaison Committee referred to in reason D and the Municipal Council shall be consulted and kept advised with respect to the details of the undertaking as they are developed and progress is made in their implementation.
6. The undertaking shall be monitored by the Ministry of the Environment and/or its agents, to ensure that the waste management activities do not result in injury or damage to persons and property.

7. A written report shall be prepared on the undertaking and updated annually over the period in which the contaminated wastes are managed. The report shall describe the activities and the results of the ongoing monitoring program and how the terms and conditions of this Order are being complied with. The report shall be submitted by the Regional Director, West Central Region of the Ministry of the Environment to the Director of Environmental Assessment Branch for filing in the public records.

Exemption Order MOE-31/1 filed as O. Reg. 16/89 is terminated and replaced hereby. O. Reg. 101/90.

Filed—March 2nd, 1990.

ORDER MADE UNDER THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT ACT

EXEMPTION—MINISTRY OF THE ENVIRONMENT—MOE-42

Having received a request from the Regional Director of the West Central Region of the Ministry of the Environment, that an undertaking, namely, activities related to the fire-fighting, clean-up and/or remedial work at or associated with the Tyre King Tyre Recycling Limited Facility located in the former Township of Walpole, in the City of Nanticoke in The Regional Municipality of Haldimand-Norfolk, be exempt from the application of the Act pursuant to section 29; and

Having been advised by the Regional Director of the West Central Region of the Ministry of the Environment that if the undertaking is subject to the application of the Act, the following injury, damage or interference with the persons and property indicated will occur:

- A. This exemption applies to an emergency situation which presents an immediate threat or danger to public health or safety or to the environment.
- B. The time required to prepare an environmental assessment and seek approval under the Environmental Assessment Act would significantly delay the implementation of the undertaking, thereby exacerbating the threat or danger to public health or safety or to the environment.

Having weighed such injury, damage or interference against the betterment of the people of the whole or any part of Ontario by the protection, conservation and wise management in Ontario of the environment which would result from the undertaking being subject to the application of the Act;

The undersigned is of the opinion that it is in the public interest to order and orders that the undertaking is exempt from the application of the Act for the following reason:

- A. The activities involved in the undertaking will result in minimizing the potential for the injury and damage which are stated above.

This exemption is subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. Where an undertaking, which is being carried out under this exemption order, is the subject of another exemption order or is an undertaking for which an environmental assessment has been accepted and approval to proceed received, the undertaking shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this exemption order, and any other terms or conditions of an exemption or approval shall not apply.
2. A report, describing the activities carried out as a part of any clean-up and/or remedial work which is carried out under this exemption order, shall be prepared by the Director of the West Central Region of the Ministry of the Environment and this report shall be filed with the Director of the Environmental Assessment Branch for filing on the public record, within six months of the completion of such work. MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987

MOTOR VEHICLE TRANSPORT ACT, 1987, PART II TRUCK APPLICATIONS:

The following are applications for extra-provincial truck transport operating licences under Part II of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987, S.C. 1987, Chapter 35. These Applicants have been found to meet the fitness requirements pursuant to Section 8(2) of that Act and the provincial transport board for Ontario proposes to issue the licences if no objection is served on the Applicant and filed with the Registrar of Motor Vehicles with the prescribed filing fee, within twenty-nine days of this publication.

EXTRA-PROVINCIAL APPLICATIONS:

NOTE: Where the application is for a licence other than a corridor operating authority, an interested person who serves and files an objection must also provide the Ontario Highway Transport Board with written evidence, within thirty-nine days of this publication that satisfies that Board that, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, the operation of the undertaking in respect of which the licence is sought would likely be detrimental to the public interest.

* Indicates a person who has applied for licences under both Part II and Part III of the Motor Vehicle Transport Act, 1987.
